MAYOR PAUL SCHULER receives a plaque last week from Herman Schroeder (right) of the Board of Realtors applauding his support for a low-interest home mortgage bond program. The mayor has said he will await a legal opinion before deciding whether to sign a controversial new city business license ordinance.

Enormity of license plan cited

(Editorial on Page 16)

Last week's ordinance revising Granite City municipal business license fees includes an enormous list of firms and occupations that would be subject to fees, critics of the long document are pointing out.

The vastness of the list, published in today's Press-Record news columns on Pages 1, 14 and 15, appears to go far beyond the number of manufacturing, commercial, service and professional activities that could feasibly be inspected and regulated by the present city staff, the critics assert.

As a result, the main point of the ordinance—adopted 9-1 March 19—is seen as revenue producing, rather than protection of public safety.

Perusal of the listing indicates that some companies could be hit by dozens of fees, including their basic business license and the licensing of employees and equipment. However, City Inspector Emerald Daves says there is no intention of requiring duplicate or multiple fees, except in the case of departments within a department store.

Census mailing Friday

"Your household, and all others in this area, will receive something in the mail this Friday—a questionnaire from the U.S. Bureau of the Census for the 1980 Census of Population and Housing," it was noted today by Ron Randolph, district manager of the census here.

"I urge that you watch for the large white envelope with blue lettering. The census questionnaire for your household will be delivered by address, not on the basis of name."

"Below the address will be a telephone number to call if help is needed in answering any questions."

"With the questionnaire will be a yellow instruction guide that gives examples on how to fill it out, and a brown, pre-addressed, postage-paid envelope for mailing it back."

"The 1980 census symbol—a pencil inscribed with April 1 filing in the zero of Census '80—appears on the envelope."

1980 CENSUS TAKERS will have portfolios and highly visible red, white and blue official cards for identification. They are sworn to secrecy not to reveal any individual's census answers, under penalty of law.

Detailed questioning of Granite City School District budget procedures and personnel planning has been undertaken by Teachers Federation Local 743 as a staff-size public hearing approaches at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Depositions taken by Attorney Raymond Frenark for Local 743 raise numerous points about the facts and rationale used by the School Board and administration in setting and implementing manning policies.

Tuesday's hearing, to be followed by a board meeting, will include plans for dismissal notices to a number of school employees.

Similar dismissals were issued a year ago, with many younger teachers losing their positions. All honorably dismissed tenured faculty members were hired back during the spring and summer as attrition created vacancies.

Purpose of the 1979-80 dismissals and the closing of three elementary schools was to bring income and spending into a closer balance.

Teachers apparently have not signed the two-year working agreement they ratified in September and have filed suit for detailed financial information from the school system, actions regarded by some as related to apprehension over the expected new wave of dismissals.

Issues subjected to questioning as part of the lawsuit preliminaries last week included past decisions to issue tax anticipation warrants while certain school funds had invested balances; use of an estimated faculty size of 630 in projecting available revenue; and ways in which special education needs are decided and budgeted.

Tully Heubner, director of business of the school district, testified last week that the district had spent over a period of time have expenditures exceeding revenues, on the accrual side you are eventually going to run up any cash

The OJJDP is carrying out its overall mandate to prevent delinquency and has the responsibility for facilitating and stimulating changes in those institutions which have the greatest impact on the maturation and socialization of youth.

A significant number of young people involved in delinquency reflect a history of negative school experiences, it is believed.

According to a CVIS spokesman, educators and non-educators alike

Pom pon mural at GC North

Granite City High School North now displays a wall mural depicting the famous "kick-line" of the national award-winning "Steel City Belles" Pom Pon Squad. The group is completing its seventh year at North.

The large-scale mural was designed by senior art student and pom pon member Lisa Shup, who is a student of Anthony Betancourt's advanced art studies at North.

Miss Shup was assisted by North Guard Flag Squad member Bridgett McNew, who is also a member of the advanced class.

Miss Shup spent many weeks preparing appropriate designs and worked with Betancourt and Robert D. Todoroff, North band director and sponsor of the Steel City Belles.

The final design chosen for application consisted of a kick-line of seven members who all look alike on the mural with the exception of distinct hair styles which serve to differentiate one from another.

The thought was that with so many past, present and future members of the squad being "immortalized," no particular features which resembled any one girl should be used. Rather, a compilation of features characteristic of all was chosen for the finished mural.

Both Betancourt and Todoroff are pleased with the work as it now stands for future students at North High, members of the Steel City Belles and others to view.

When North opened its doors seven years ago, Pom Pon was just a dream. I feel that the young ladies who are members of the squad now, and the many numbers who are alumni of the past six years, have established a tradition and a place in the hearts of the school and community which this mural symbolizes.

"It helps to depict the type of activity which is as always, a vital part of school life at North High," Director Todoroff commented.

2240 WINDOW BROKEN
Karen Miller, owner of the Pizza Palace, 194 Madison Ave., reported the front window of her business was shot with a BB pellet at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. It was broken, causing damage of $240.

FENCE DAMAGED
An unknown vehicle struck a chain link fence at the home of Raymond O'Beir, 3010 Thirteenth St., knocking down 30 feet of fencing and a gate and causing damage of $150, authorities were told at 10:10 a.m. Saturday.

Boatman and Marilyn Szczepanik, and Laura Levin, Julia Rowden, Lisa Shup, both an artist and senior pom pon member. Anthony Betancourt, instructor and Bridgett McNew, artistic assistant.

In Venice, incumbents Jack R. Tolliver and Wilbert Glasper are seeking re-election to three year terms.

Also filing for three year terms in Venice are Earl Hogan, Gergory Katana and John Mangiaracino.

George Wade Jr. and

Bernard C. Hogan have each filed for a one year term in Venice. Wade has been filing the term by appointment.

Incumbents Sam Dymas and Frank Eaves are seeking re-election to three year terms and are being challenged by Mrs. Evelyn Holt and Mrs. Viola Lewis. Edward Newsome is running, unopposed, for the two-year unexpired term of the late Elvers Johnson.

Hit-run crash leads to arrest

George L. Doggett Jr., 23, Collinsville, was arrested early Saturday in Kirkpatrick Homes and was charged with criminal trespass to property, criminal damage to property, assault, possession of cannabis, reckless driving, leaving the scene of an accident and failure to give the required information at the accident scene.

A woman residing in the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes told police she arrived home to find glass in a door to her apartment had been removed and she found a man asleep on the living room couch.

He was bleeding and there was blood on the floors, curtains and couch and pillow. Officers arrested Doggett and found his car in the front lawn of an apartment in the 4100 block of Kirkpatrick Homes.

Witnesses said the auto was eastbound on Edwards Street and struck the parked car of Pat Stuckey, 402 Kirkpatrick Homes, pushing it into the parked car of Mary Padgett, 504 Kirkpatrick Homes. That auto then was pushed into the parked auto of John Over-turf, 2053 Alton Ave., Madison, it was reported.

The auto then attempted to leave the scene, but struck the side of Mary Padgett's car again, witnesses alleged. It went through the yards at 4110, 4109, 4108 and 4107 Kirkpatrick Homes before coming to a stop, they added.

The driver got out, walked to the 3300 block of Kirkpatrick Homes and then broke into one apartment, where Doggett was arrested, police believe.

He was released at 9:40 a.m. Sunday on $335 cash bond.

Judge Clark to leave circuit bench in April

Circuit Judge Harold R. Clark will end 24 years' service to the Third Judicial Circuit Court when he leaves the bench next month.

Judge Clark, Madison County's only Republican circuit judge, has accepted a position as an administrative law judge with the Social Security administration at Peoria. His resignation will become effective April 20.

His departure will open the way for the appointment of a Democratic judge. His replacement will be named by the Illinois Supreme Court. Such tasks usually are assumed by the Supreme Court justice from this district, who at present is Joseph Goldenhersh of Belleville.

Judge Clark said there is nothing "I can do about that, I have done about all I can do here on the bench."

Clark, 62, was appointed to the bench in August 1956 and subsequently was elected. He was defeated in 1970 in a bid for the Illinois Supreme Court, running against Goldenhersh. He has been a member of the Illinois Judicial Conference for the past eight years and assigned to hear cases in the Appellate Court.

He lives in Alton with his wife and four children.

Basis of suit is explained

"Prior to the filing of their lawsuit, the teachers had not received a March 3 memo from 'Tully' Heubner, director of business, to Supt. B. J. Davis," Teachers' Federation Local 743 said Friday in explaining why it sued the Granite City school system for financial information.

"The memo contains the only economic projections for the 1980-81 fiscal year that have been made by the district thus far."

"Nor was any such financial report scheduled on the board agenda for the last board meeting March 4."

"Any layman would agree that no intelligent teacher response to the threatened dismissal of teachers for 1980-81, based upon 'economic reasons,' could be made without seeing the district's fiscal projections and having their validity by cross-examination."

"All this has now occurred since the teachers filed their lawsuit seeking an accounting by District Nine. 'We should point out further that the School Board's attorney would not permit the administration to be examined under oath during negotiations last summer when the teachers had no lawsuit filed.'"

Tree hit two hurt

William Barnes, 16, of 2420 St. Clair Ave., was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center at 8:20 p.m. Thursday with abrasions to the hip, chest and ribs following an auto accident.

Three juveniles with Carver were released to juvenile authorities.

Carver allegedly was seen by Pontoon Beach police driving with a motorcycle in the trunk of his vehicle.

Pyramid scheme is held illegal

Pyramid schemes are illegal in Madison County, State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron ruled Thursday.

A pyramid scheme in which participants pay $1,000 to enter and then each attempts to sell $1,000 "memberships" to two other persons started in the Kansas City, Mo., area several months ago and the fad has spread into St. Louis, Belleville, Godfrey and Collinsville. Numerous Granite City residents have been urged to join.

Byron issued a statement

Thursday in which he said, "I am issuing an opinion to all law enforcement agencies in the county, including police chiefs, the sheriff's department and the DCI (State Police Division of Criminal Investigation)."

"My opinion, as far as Madison County is concerned, is that pyramid schemes constitute a violation of the Illinois criminal code as it relates to illegal lotteries."

"The scheme calls for the payment of a fee to a recruiter. Part of the fee is passed forward by some formula. The recruited person is then called on to recruit additional persons to expand downward the base of the pyramid and increase his likelihood of money to him."

"It goes on to infinity: except that, by population limitations or other reasons, the number of participants is very limited," Byron said.

The illegality of a pyramid scheme was determined in 1939 by the First District

Appellate Court in Kent vs. the city of Chicago, Byron said.

"The court interpreted an older version of a lottery law, that the sale of 33 coupon books contained the three elements of an illegal lottery—chance, prize and price," he added.

Byron did not say whether he plans to file charges against the operators of any pyramid schemes at this time.

Concern over middle school's readiness

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Concern over some of the contractors allegedly not cleaning up their work sufficiently at the new middle school was a major item of concern for the Madison Board of Education at its meeting Thursday evening.

Board President Sam Dymas asked Eldon Rhoads, maintenance supervisor for the district, "Is the school going to be ready for us to move into by April 7 when the students return from Easter vacation?"

Rhoads replied, "The way they are going now the answer is no."

"It could be, but not enough is being done out there. Some contractors are just not cleaning up."

"There is a lot of work to be done before we can begin moving in equipment, desks and a multitude of items," Rhoads concluded.

"We just cannot accept the building unless it is ready," Dymas said.

Rhoads reported that a hot water heater, delayed in arriving, is almost installed and that meters have been hooked up.

The board approved the junior high school dismissing at 2 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday, March 25 and 27, to allow the school administration to meet with the faculty about the move to the new middle school. The school will serve the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

The board also approved hiring substitute cooks for whatever period of time the administration feels they are needed, in order to have the regular cooks become familiar with the new kitchen equipment in the middle school.

In other actions, the board approved:

The Trinity Tabernacle Church use of the grounds behind Madison High School for an annual Easter egg hunt on Sunday afternoon, April 6, from approximately 1 p.m. until 3:30 p.m.

Fifty junior high students to visit McDonnell Planetarium on Saturday, April 26.

Hiring of Timothy Schultz

as a vocal music teacher.

The use of three additional classrooms in Dunbar School by the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission at a reasonable cost to be determined by the district administration.

Advertising for bids for three lawnmowers.

Madison High School Future Secretaries Chapter senior members to spend Thursday, April 17, at the First National Bank of St. Louis.

MHS band members' sale of chocolate bars during April.

Sixth grade classes of Dunbar and Louis Baer Schools to plant trees at the new middle school for Arbor Day, April 25.

ELEMENTARY ART IN HIGHER EDUCATION. Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has dressed up a renovation site in the University Center by covering it with examples from a children's art show. Taking a look at the art produced by elementary schools in this region are Mrs. Nathalie Born, six-year-old Staci and five-year-old Eric. Seven-month-old Adam Born looks bored with the whole affair. The Born children visited the local campus while their mother registered for spring quarter classes that will open today.

Cronin cites
mixed feelings

State Superintendent of Education Joseph M. Cronin, who last week accepted the presidency of the Massachusetts Higher Education Assistance Corporation effective this summer, says he is leaving with "mixed emotions."

Cronin, Illinois' first-appointed state superintendent of education, said, "I look forward to new challenges, but I shall miss working with the dedicated staff and members of the State Board of Education."

"Working with the governor, the legislature and the educational community in facing serious and often controversial issues, the board has shown courage and commitment to its constitutional responsibilities."

"I am confident the State Board will continue its good work with my successor and continue its progress toward making our state's great educational system even better."

Donald F. Muirheid, chairman of the State Board, accepted Cronin's resignation "with deep regret."

"Dr. Cronin provided strong administrative leadership during the first several years of the board's existence," the chairman said. "I had hoped that he would remain to see us through the next several years."

"The board regrets his leaving, but wishes him every future success."

Muirheid said he will ask the board to set up a selection process for a new superintendent at the earliest possible date to assure continuous, effective administration of state services to Illinois schools.

What Is A Trust?

This series of short articles is presented by the Trust Department, First Granite City National Bank, to better inform you about this important subject, and to dispel the mystique and side-eyed misunderstanding that surrounds it. Subsequent brief articles over the next few weeks will provide more details and insight into various types of trusts. Watch for them.

"Short-Term" Trust

The primary purpose of the so-called "short-term" trust is to save income taxes. It can be used to shift the income tax burden on assets placed in the trust from the grantor to another. To qualify for this important tax advantage a trust must meet these tests:

1. The trust must last for at least 10 years. There are, however, two important exceptions to this rule. First, the trust may terminate upon the earlier death of the income beneficiary. If the beneficiary is, for example, the elderly parent of the grantor, the trust meets the test even though the parent's death may occur within such period. Secondly, if the income beneficiary is a charity, the term of the trust need be only 2 years.
2. The trust must be irrevocable. During the term of the trust the grantor must give up all right to terminate, amend, or modify it in any manner.

Upon its termination the assets in the trust revert to the grantor. During its existence, however, the grantor has completely escaped tax on its income.

Generally speaking, a person will benefit from a short-term trust if he is (a) in a relatively high income tax bracket; (b) is supporting another person with after-tax dollars; and (c) has income-producing assets which can safely be set aside for the period of the trust but which will be needed at a future time such as, for example, upon retirement.

When an estate is of such large size that the assets will not be needed at a later time, the short-term trust may not be appropriate. Instead, consideration should perhaps be given to outright gifts or gifts in trust to minimize both income and estate taxes.

There are a number of cautions to be observed in establishing a short-term trust. One is that if the income is used to satisfy the grantor's legal obligation to support the beneficiary, i.e., his minor child, the income to the extent so used will be taxed to the grantor, thus defeating the purpose of the trust. Also, the trust must last for a minimum of 10 years unless it comes within the two exceptions mentioned above. If additional property is added to the trust and the remaining term is less than 10 years, the grantor will be taxed on the income realized from such additions.

What is a trust? We hope we've stripped some of the mystery from this not-so-simple question. If you should have additional questions, talk to your attorney and both of you are invited to visit us. We'll be glad to help.

And please remember: These short articles are offered only as a non-technical guideline to the question of trusts. They are not intended to be used as legal advice. That is the job of your own attorney.

County auditor attended St. Louis University. He has resided in Madison County 58 years and served in World War II as an Air Force staff sergeant in England, Africa and Italy.

The veteran official suffered a heart attack in July 1978 and returned to his duties after heart surgery.

Kraynak's March 19 letter to Nelson Hagnauer, chairman of the Madison County Board, related that "upon my resignation as county auditor, I strongly recommend the appointment of Arthur P. Fields Jr. to the office for the remainder of the term."

"Mr. Fields is presently employed as chief deputy county auditor, whereby he has gained the experience and knowledge first-hand as to the duties and functions of the office of county auditor."

"He will give much to the management and effective continuity of the office for the remaining months of the term and perhaps will continue to do so for some time to come."

"Thank you for your consideration of appointing Mr. Fields to the unexpired term of county auditor."

His March 20 letter to Chairman Hagnauer said: "Due to health reasons, I can no longer continue to fulfill the compelling duties of the office of county auditor."

"I herewith tender my resignation as county auditor of Madison County, Ill., effective at the close of business March 28, 1980."

"A sincere thank you and appreciation to all my fellow officials and department heads and employees of the county for their respect and understanding during my tenure."

"I shall always cherish the cooperation extended my office and staff over these many years."

Education grant

realize the need to expand educational programs which may meet the social, emotional, academic and vocational needs of all students.

The present CYS Alternative Education Program was awarded a grant from the Illinois Law Enforcement Commission (ILEC).

In a letter to the Madison County, C. A. MacMillan, director of CYS, said, "At this time we would like to respond to ILEEC by submitting a proposal for funding which would enable the Alternative Education Program to continue present services and implement new goals."

The CYS director informed the board that if the grant is approved, the local agency will be able to develop and implement new strategies and techniques in alternative education.

The grant would allow CYS to upgrade the quality of existing alternative education programs by improving curriculum development, staff training, youth and parent participation in the area schools.

CYS feels that with the funding it could reduce the numbers of student dropouts, truants, suspensions and expulsions in the area schools.

The grant would also allow CYS to prepare students for employment or successful participation in post secondary training and education.

Board members feel there is an urgent need for additional services and programming in the area of truancy, suspension, expulsions and dropouts, and a need to continue and improve the existing CYS Alternative Education services.

License plan

Inclusion of licensing of television, radio and newspaper reporters apparently was unintentional. Dawes notes that he and a secretary who worked on the list for two months included court and convention reporters but no other reporters.

Mayor Paul Schuler has said he will delay signing the ordinance until consulting with City Attorney Lance Callis on its legal ramifications. The Press-Record said editorially March 20 that it doubts the constitutionality of some portions of the ordinance.

The list includes youth organizations and centers, cash registers, calendars, wheel chairs, nurses, chimney cleaning, nursing homes, public libraries, printers, printing press machines, computers and entertainers.

It also mentions many types of engineers and contractors, fund-raising organizations, dentists, clothing buyers, boarding houses, church furnishings, fraternal regalia and supplies, ice cream cones as well as ice cream shops, and manicuring.

Other miscellaneous items, meters, paper distributors, padlocks, medical oxygen, pens, pizza, quarries, dog race tracks, religious organizations, religious goods, salt, schools, senior citizens' service organizations, social service organizations, tattooing, van conversions, water companies and vibration control.

Alderman Paul Fisk, one of those voting for the ordinance, has said he believes it will need to be withdrawn in its present state. Some of the other council members also have voiced reservations about certain subjects included in the proposed law.

Census mailing

with the message: "This envelope contains your official census form. Please fill it out and mail it back on Tuesday, April 1."

"I ask that you pay particular attention to this message, because April 1 is Census Day, the day of the official count of the U.S. population."

"That is why it is essential that every questionnaire list all persons in the household on that day, and does not list anyone who moved away or died a day or so before, but does include anyone who just moved in, or a baby born on that day. The mother and baby are to be listed even if they are in the hospital."

"Filling out the census form can be made a family project, with everyone supplying the correct information about himself or herself. And be sure to mark your answers with a black lead pencil, not if you make a mistake, you can erase it."

balance that you have and you're going to have to issue tax warrants to operate."

Freeark asked, "You personally think the issuance of tax warrants is sinful?"

Heubner replied, "I don't think it is sinful for cash flow purposes. I think that you can reach a point where it becomes bad business."

"Well, what is that point?", the attorney asked.

"I don't think that a school district or any other district that wants to stay on a sound financial basis should ever put themselves into a position where they would have to issue warrants against second-year taxes."

"Has this district ever come close to that?"

"No sir."

"And the state of Illinois actually permits you to do that, don't they? You can borrow against second-year taxes."

"Yes sir."

"Last year out of a $20 million budget you spent $14,000 for interest on tax anticipation warrants?" Yes."

"Would you consider that, in all fairness, financial doomsday?"

Attorney Harold Baker objected, saying, "That's argumentative. I instruct him not to answer."

Freeark rephrased the question: "Would you consider that a serious financial plight?"

Heubner responded, "When you have borrowed $1,600,000—when two years ago you had to borrow $350,000 or $370,000, the following year you had to borrow $850,000 and the following year you had to borrow $1,600,000—then I would think that you're getting to a point where you had better slow down. You better start looking at costs."

Alcoholism counseling instruction

The Office of Continuing Education at SIUE will offer a workshop series on alcoholism counseling beginning March 25, according to Donald Shandler, director.

Developed under a grant from the Illinois Department of Mental Health and Developmental Disabilities, the workshop will be comprised of four two-day topical units over a period of four months.

Participants will receive training in basic alcoholism counseling, intake and treatment planning, treatment process in alcoholism counseling, and prevention outreach.

Shandler said the program should be of interest to people involved in direct service to clients troubled with alcoholism, including members of the victim's family, social workers, nurses, agency personnel, college students pursuing careers in health care delivery, and others interested in learning more about the problem of alcohol abuse.

Interested persons may enroll in individual two-day units or for the entire series. Registration for the four units will be $155, which includes course materials and lunch. Registration for a single two-day unit will be $45.

The classes will be held in the Indian Rooms of the University Center from 8:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. each day.

Unit I (Basic Alcoholism Knowledge Base) will meet March 25 and 26. Students will take a close look at the extent of the problems in this country, its history and evolution; the effects of alcohol; nature of the disease, and contemporary treatment philosophies.

Unit II (Intake Assessment and Treatment Planning) will meet April 22 and 23. Course-work will include basic communication skills; intake interviewing; physical and psycho-social assessment and referral; and developing the treatment plan.

Unit III (Treatment Process in Alcoholism Counseling) will meet May 20 and 21. Participants will explore the topics of client education; developing rapport; support techniques; challenges; and the application of treatment models.

Unit IV (Prevention Outreach) classes will meet June 10 and 11. Students will consider the implementation of prevention outreach programs.

Maxine Rosenbarger, associate professor in the SIUE at Carbondale department of vocational education studies, will coordinate the workshop units.

A cross-disciplinary training team of SIUE and field-based professionals will assist in teaching the course, including Doris Bell, assistant professor of nursing; Judith Cingolani, associate professor of sociology and social work; James Stein, associate professor at the university's Delinquency Studies Center; Roslyn Sykes, assistant professor of nursing; and Rudolph G. Wilson, assistant professor of secondary education.

Instructors from the agency sector will include: Della Kinsolving, director of the alcohol and drug service center in the St. Clair County Alcoholism Drug Dependence Council; and Gerald Rehagen, a doctoral candidate at St. Louis U. and executive director of the council.

Says judges erred in forcing voter to take a Democratic ballot

Judges at Precinct 11 in Nameoki Township erred in their refusal to give Ralph Baker, 1605 Wellington Drive, a Republican ballot which he says he requested when he appeared to vote in the primary election last week, according to County Clerk Evelyn Bowles.

Miss Bowles said Baker's complaint was the only one of its type received after the primary balloting.

Baker said when he appeared at the polling place he asked for a Republican ballot, but was told by a "registered as a Democrat" and therefore would have to vote a Democratic ballot.

"I felt my rights were infringed upon, but they insisted I had to vote Democratic and I did," Baker said.

Miss Bowles said there is no Democratic or Republican separation in voter registrations and that Baker should have persisted in his request and not have accepted the Democratic ballot.

In Wood River Precinct One, Jim Hickerson notified Miss Bowles he signed a request form for a Republican ballot but instead was given a Democrat ballot without his knowledge.

It was voted as a Republican ballot before the error was noted, and the differing candidate placements thwarted him from expressing his actual choice.

No solution was provided by the county clerk's staff to remedy the loss of his vote.

GC refunds part of double payment

Granite City aldermen voted unanimously last week to refund to the Thiems Construction Co. $542 which represented a "double payment" for repair of damage to a police car. The refund was approved on the recommendation of Assistant City Attorney Irvin Slate Jr., who explained the incident in this way: In December 1978 a Granite City police car was damaged while making a call to the 7-11 store construction site. The car was repaired and the store paid the city $568 for the repair cost. In addition, the construction firm paid the city $542 to cover the damage. According to Slate, "The city collected twice" for the police car repairs. The 7-11 store then deducted from the construction firm's bill for construction work the amount the store had paid. Slate said the refund to the construction firm would solve the problem. The police car was "damaged while on the store property, having been summoned as a result of a construction problem."

Aides to be employed for work center

The Oath, Inc., Work Activity Center, 612 State St., Madison, is announcing the funding of a YCCIP (Youth Community Conservation Improvement Project) beginning April 1, sponsored by the Office of Manpower Development.

Youths, aged 16-19, from the Quad-Cities interested in full-time employment with the six-month project should immediately make application at the Job Service Office, 1820 Cleveland Boulevard, it was announced. Nine positions are available — six pre-apprentice carpenters and three work activity center aides, both male and female. Applicants are not required to meet income criteria but must be unemployed and available for immediate employment. Further information can be obtained by calling Ruth Lathrop, Youth Division supervisor, Office of Manpower Development, at 876-5031.

The council rejected a request of the Illinois Public Action Committee, based in Champaign, for permission to solicit funds in a door-to-door canvass during April. The group, which was described as a non-profit citizens lobby, said it also would seek members and cooperation in interviews that would be made between 4 p.m. and 9 p.m. daily. Several aldermen noted that a similar request was made last year and also was rejected at that time. A request by the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission for payment of $2,441 as the city's share of the commission's operating cost was referred to the Finance Committee.

HURT IN CRASH

Mrs. Barbara Hogue, 34, and Anna Wood, 9, both of 3001 Kirkpatrick Homes, were treated Thursday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for injuries received in an auto accident. Mrs. Hogue was treated for a right knee injury and the other occupant for a bump on the head. Both were released after treatment.

Nutrition fair here on Friday

March has been designated Nutrition Month by the American Dietetic Association to encourage good nutrition and to increase public awareness of foods and how they affect health. In keeping with the theme of Nutrition Month, St. Elizabeth Medical Center is preparing for its annual Nutrition Fair to be held Friday, March 28, from 2 to 4 p.m. in the center's Wiesman Room.

The fair is open to the public and will feature booths, games and prizes — all with a nutritional theme. A free blood pressure clinic will be operating and dietitians will be on hand to answer questions about nutrition. One of the highlights of the Nutrition Fair will be an annual poster contest featuring entries from Granite City school students. Their posters will be displayed and everybody attending the fair will have a chance to vote for their favorite. Three winners will be awarded $25 U.S. savings bonds. Theme of this year's nutrition month is "To Hit Your Stride, Eat Right."

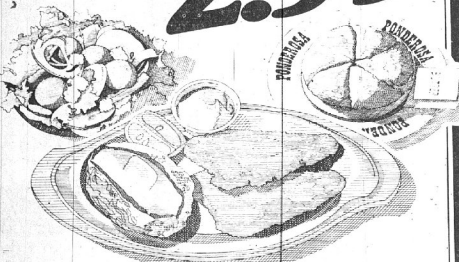

Man charged with aggravated assault

James A. Aitken, 27, of Cahokia, was arrested on an aggravated assault warrant at 8:38 p.m. Friday after he allegedly drove his motorcycle in an alley next to the playground at Marshall School and threatened a 10-year-old stepdaughter with a knife at 1:58 p.m. that day. It is asserted he displayed a knife while she was playing on the school grounds. He allegedly told her he would kill her if she did not tell him where her mother was residing.

The youngster is in the custody of her grandmother; the mother left this area temporarily after reporting a threat on her life. Cash bail was set at $300.

Conventional fuels in transition, cause hardship

By DON E. KASH
(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the tenth in a series of 15 articles exploring "Energy and the Way We Live." In this article, Don E. Kash of the University of Oklahoma provides some essential data about our current resources of coal, oil, and gas.)

America is in a period of transition into its fourth energy era: a transition from oil and gas to other energy sources.

New energy technologies, however, are decades away from becoming full-scale substitutes for oil and gas. It is therefore virtually certain that we will have to muddle through a long transition period, requiring major changes in our lives.

Previous energy eras in the United States were wood (1850s), coal (1880s), and oil and natural gas (1950s to the present).

Earlier transitions between eras were propelled by the twin engines of an expanding industrializing economy and the magnet of an attractive new energy source. Coal was cheaper and easier to use than wood, and so it was when oil and gas replaced coal.

Quite different and more painful forces propel the present transition: shortages, high costs, and unstable oil supplies. Nor is it clear what the energy sources of the future will be.

Without question, the nation has inadequate domestic supplies of oil and gas to support its present level of economic activity, let alone continuing rapid growth. That was the message of the 1973 Arab oil boycott, a message repeated with cessation of Iranian exports in 1979.

Many Americans indict both government and industry for the failure to develop alternative sources of energy in the years between the 1973 and 1979 world oil shortages.

This indictment reflects the belief that alternative energy sources weren't developed because shortages allow energy companies to make excess profits.

Unfortunately, the answer is not so simple when there are no agreed-upon substitute energy sources. In the long term, the nation must move to limitless or renewable energy sources such as nuclear fusion or solar power.

While these are being developed, our transition policy will rely on some combination of conservation, finding new oil and gas, and increased use of coal. Each of these options involves painful choices.

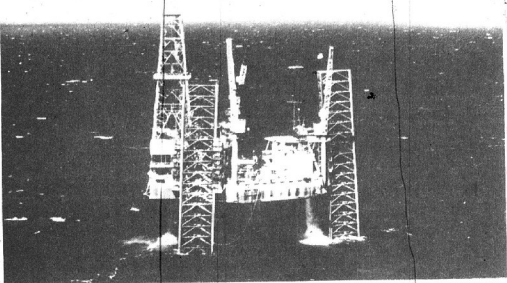

CONSERVATION. Energy conservation can be achieved in two ways. First, and most attractive, is more efficient use of oil and gas. In many areas, technology offers the opportunity to save energy. These technological advances range from insulated houses, to diesel cars, to more efficient manufacturing processes.

This relatively painless approach to conservation, however, will not be adequate to meet the nation's conservation needs. Americans must also change their lifestyles.

To date, our willingness to live in 85-degree houses, drive 55 miles an hour, use fewer processed foods, and stop applying synthetic products to our lawns has not been encouraging.

Rather, energy shortages have contributed more to inflation than conservation as we have sought to maintain present lifestyles in the face of shortage.

OFFSHORE OIL DRILLING—AND ITS RISKS. Offshore rigs (top) can increase our oil supply, but at the risk of leaks that can lead to ecological damage, such as this oil-slicked beach at Santa Barbara, Calif., in 1969.

driven escalating energy prices.

Simply stated, the need to conserve oil and gas has triggered a struggle over who has to conserve, the middle class or the poor, homeowners or industry.

The need to conserve is certain to create continuing social stresses during the transition from the oil and gas era, and those stresses are likely to be greater if we have to use rationing.

DOMESTIC OIL AND GAS

Industry advertisements note that the easily obtained oil and gas have already been found. Already discovered domestic oil would last us just over four years if it supplied all oil needs at the present consumption rate of 6.5 billion barrels a year.

That more oil is there to be found is agreed upon. What will cost to find it and produce it, both economically and environmentally, is a source of disagreement.

Alaska and the offshore areas of the continental United States are believed to offer the best prospects for new oil and gas, with estimates ranging from two to five times the oil to be found in the inland 48 states.

But development of these prospects will be expensive, take years, and continue to be a source of controversy. Furthermore, it must be emphasized that domestic prospects offer no hope of being a full substitute for oil imports, which now make up nearly half of our daily consumption of 18 million barrels.

FOREIGN SUPPLIES

To the contrary, continued imports are critical to a stable transition period. We, however, can have little confidence in the long-term reliability of oil imports.

As events in Iran in 1978-1979 emphasized, the total world's production capability is probably only 3 million barrels a day more than present consumption (approximately 60 to 65 million barrels) — or less than the pre-revolutionary export level of Iran or roughly 5 million barrels a day.

Some observers hope that both the production problem and the threat of instability posed by Middle Eastern politics will be mitigated by new discoveries in Mexico and potential discoveries in China.

However, the Mexican and Chinese prospects are shaky sources of hope for a stable transition to a new energy era.

Mexican reserves, presently estimated at 25 billion barrels, are being added to every year. By comparison, U.S. reserves, presently estimated at 28 billion barrels, are declining.

The Mexican production, however, is still only 1 to 2 million barrels a day, and it will be years before Mexican exports can achieve a level equal to that of clearer opportunity for an assured energy source through the transition. Domestic coal resources are huge, easily sufficient to carry us to our solar and/or nuclear future.

But coal poses a seemingly endless number of problems and challenges. We are still developing techniques and standards for mining coal in ways that minimize the damage to the nation's land and water, and to the miners' health.

Direct burning of coal raises serious pollution problems. Because of the impacts of air pollution on the environment and human health, the government requires the use of clean technologies by electric utilities and large-scale users before much of the nation's coal can be burned.

Major differences exist over the adequacy and need for such cleanup technologies as the stack gas scrubbers which take sulfur dioxide out of power plant smoke. No one, however, disagrees that scrubbers increase the cost of energy.

Management of pollution is only one of the barriers to substituting coal for oil and gas. Better than half the homes in America have gas furnaces.

With minuscule exceptions, our whole transportation system requires gasoline or fuel oil. Coal can hope to meet these needs only if it is converted to gaseous or liquid energy forms. Although they exist in other countries, not a single commercial coal conversion facility is operating in the United States.

In his TV address to the nation following the Camp David policy review in July 1979, President Carter proposed a major coal synthetics program.

Even if it were to lead to the proposed production of 2.5 million barrels of synthetic oil by 1990 — at a capital cost of over $100 billion — this massive effort would meet less than 15 percent of our present daily use of oil.

The transition period we are entering will thus require major changes in individual as well as social and economic behavior.

We are clearly faced with the kinds of difficult choices all societies would rather duck, but ducking is no longer an available option.

St. Elizabeth Credit Union 25 years old

St. Elizabeth Credit Union, 2425 Pine St., Granite City, was honored by the Credit Union National Association, Inc. (CUNA) last week on the occasion of its 25th Anniversary.

In a message to the St. Elizabeth Credit Union board of directors, CUNA President Jim Williams said, "You should take great pride in your accomplishments in helping people help themselves and influencing their economic well-being."

These accomplishments have resulted in improved standards of living, increased awareness of financial alternatives, and alleviation of many of the financial concerns which are part of our everyday lives.

Williams' message was read to the credit union's board of directors at a celebration honoring the credit union's milestone at Fischer's Restaurant, Belleville.

The credit union was chartered in 1955 to serve the St. Elizabeth parish. "We now serve 531 members and our total assets have grown from $25 in 1955 to over $20,000," said credit union manager John Straubinger.

St. Elizabeth Credit Union is one of more than 22,000 credit unions nationwide serving more than 41 million Americans. CUNA is the national trade association for U.S. credit unions.

DEFEAT OF CORN PROPOSAL VERIFIED

The official teller committee chosen by the Illinois Department of Agriculture has verified and announced the official results of the March 6 corn checkoff referendum. Farmers soundly defeated the corn checkoff proposal by a final tally of 13,982 no votes, versus 6,532 yes votes.

Had the referendum been approved, farmers would have donated a quarter cent per bushel of marketed corn to support a statewide research program to find new uses for corn. Additional monies would have been used to develop more overseas markets to increase demand and boost grain prices.

Mural project OK

A summer youth work program in which the wall of a downtown building is to be cleaned and smoothed for painting a mural of Granite City history has been approved by Madison County Manpower officials and certified for a grant.

Stack, assistant city inspector, told the City Council last week.

The program will involve five workers assigned under the Comprehensive Employment and Training Act to clean cement and debris from the wall of the building facing a vacant lot on the southeast corner of 18th Street and Delmar Avenue, Stack said.

After the wall is prepared for painting, the mural will be painted by students of high school art classes.

Stack told the aldermen that the project also has been approved by local labor unions, which will permit the work to be done by CETA workers and students who are not members of the unions.

Only the taller portion of the building will be improved, Stack said, asserting that the back section has a deteriorating false wall which should be removed.

Council members also referred to the Finance Committee a recommendation by Assistant City Attorney Irvin Slate Jr. that the city make immediate arrangements to pay a $125,000 judgment obtained by Mary Baker of Granite City for injuries received in a fall.

Slate noted in a letter to the aldermen that the judgment has been upheld in appeals to the Appellate Court and the Illinois Supreme Court and that there is no further action to be taken by the city.

He said interest is mounting on the judgment and that it should be paid as soon as possible.

Slate said there are several methods by which the city can retire the judgment, including partial payment this year and payment of the remainder next year. If the city can show hardship, the judgment may be paid in equal installments over a ten-year period, he added.

Other methods of payment are issuance of bonds in the amount of the judgment or adoption of a tax levy to pay the debt. In either case, bonds or a tax levy are not affected by the statutory limits, Slate said.

Will preserve labor records on microfilm

Records of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council which date back to 1898 are to be preserved on microfilm and the original copies retained by the Illinois Historical Society. Edwin Reiske, president of the trades council, told council delegates during a regular meeting last week that a representative of the Illinois Historical Society plans to come here, probably this week, to supervise the transfer of the old records to microfilm. Reiske said a microfilm copy of the records will be filed with the Granite City Public Library and will be available to the public. The original records, he said, will be turned over to the state society. Reiske said the labor council proceedings once were published in full in the Press-Record. Reiske noted, The records have been stored through the years at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank. Many of the older records are very fragile and could be destroyed if not preserved in some manner, the union official noted.

The trades council is made up of delegates representing 31 unions which have 17,000 members in the Quad-City area. The delegates last week also authorized the council's Screening Committee to interview candidates seeking union endorsement in the April 12 school elections in Granite City, Madison and Venice. The Screening session was set for Wednesday, April 2, at 6:30 p.m. in the Labor Temple. Reiske said that any school board candidate may appear before the committee at that time.

Right to license, and not license, gives vast power

The Press-Record on Thursday published an editorial entitled "Licensing of reporters by city sounds unconstitutional." We don't wish to belabor the subject, but we have some additional comments today.

As noted, the ordinance adopted last Wednesday night seeks to license various businesses and occupations—news men and women and hundreds of other persons and firms. The list is so long that it takes up one-third of today's front page and large areas of two other pages in this issue of the Press-Record.

It is somewhat understandable that the city government, hard pressed financially, is seeking to expand its revenue base. But the approach being used in this ordinance goes much too far, in our opinion, because it would penalize many needed enterprises and activities.

The cumulative monetary impact on numerous legitimate businesses could be confiscatory. We seem to recall an old saying that "the power to tax is the power to destroy." Present officials say there would be few multiple licensings, but their administration of the ordinance, but no guarantee of this is spelled out in the document.

The power to license implies the power not to license, if inspection by the city government determines that the business or trade being evaluated would be contrary to the public interest or safety.

This is a lot of power for the city to wield. And the scope of the inspections undoubtedly goes far beyond the time and ability of the present city inspection department. Nor would we like to see the staff substantially expanded.

We don't visualize ourselves hiring only those reporters approved by the city for licensing, or getting rid of those whom the city might turn down.

The same reasoning applies to many other fields, including those that lack specific constitutional protection. We doubt that the municipality could prove that it has sufficient expertise to fairly judge even a fraction of the almost endless list of businesses targeted by the ordinance.

Granite City is a home rule city under the 1970 Illinois Constitution. But even under home rule, rights of individual citizens must not be, cannot be, ground underfoot by government edict.

Policy of weakness makes war, not peace, more likely

Guest comment by Congressman John Rousselle—In the period following the seizure of our American embassy personnel in Iran by Islamic fanatics on Nov. 4, 1979, U.S. foreign policy has been thrown into turmoil as we reap the wages of a policy of weakness.

The chaos and terrorism in Iran and the Soviet conquest of Afghanistan could have been avoided. Both deserve a stronger response from the U.S. government.

For some years, the U.S. has pursued a policy of acquiescence and appeasement. Fearful of involvement, we have refused to stand up for American interests and the interests of our allies. Hopful of currying favor with often hostile Third World nations, we have stood by as Cuban mercenaries roamed freely across Africa.

Desiring peace at any price, we have allowed American military strength to atrophy. And we've closed our eyes as the Soviets furiously built the most powerful war machine the world has ever known. We are now paying the price.

The shah of Iran was a strong ally and a valuable supplier of oil. Whatever his misdeeds, the pole in comparison to those of the ayatollah. Yet, we pushed the shah from power and persuaded his army to do nothing. For our efforts, our embassy personnel were taken hostage, another situation which could have been avoided.

The American embassy was seized in February 1979 as well as November, and we knew the likelihood of a second seizure. But our policy was—and still is—that our embassies should not be defended themselves.

That policy should change.

Failing to avoid an avoidable situation, we compounded our error by responding inadequately to terrorism. The U.S. should have swiftly moved to rescue the hostages from the sprawling 27-acre embassy compound. Even short of a rescue operation, immediate and strong reprisals should have been insisted.

The time for economic sanctions and a naval blockade was last November. If Vietnam taught us nothing else, it should have been that gradual escalation does not work well.

We have instead appealed to the United Nations, an organization of diplomats which can't even bring itself to help fellow diplomats held hostage. The UN, though it now condemns the Soviet Union for aggression, has taken no effective action to prevent one nuclear nation from invading another in clear violation of the UN charter.

The invasion of Afghanistan seems to have convinced the U.S. that we have allowed American military strength to atrophy. And we've closed our eyes as the Soviets furiously built the most powerful war machine the world has ever known. We are now paying the price.

The shah of Iran was a strong ally and a valuable supplier of oil. Whatever his misdeeds, the pole in comparison to those of the ayatollah. Yet, we pushed the shah from power and persuaded his army to do nothing. For our efforts, our embassy personnel were taken hostage, another situation which could have been avoided.

The American embassy was seized in February 1979 as well as November, and we knew the likelihood of a second seizure. But our policy was—and still is—that our embassies should not be defended themselves.

That policy should change.

Mrs. Perry dies at 84

Mrs. Ruth Keelin Perry, 84, of Granite City, died at 8:45 p.m. Thursday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

A former resident of East St. Louis, Mrs. Perry had resided here for three years. She was born in Enid, Miss. Mrs. Perry had been an employee of East St. Louis and Company, East St. Louis, for several years prior to her retirement.

Her husband, Alfonso Perry, preceded her in death.

Survivors include five sons: Robert Keelin, Collinsville, Earl and David Keelin, both of Houston, Texas; William Keelin, Memphis, Tenn.; and Lewis Keelin, Lorain, Ohio; five daughters: Mrs. Ruby Hurst and Mrs. Leon (Annie) Belle Keelin, both of Memphis, Tenn.; Mrs. Ray (Allie) Anderson, Boca Raton, Fla.; Mrs. Jack (Joy) Cokins, Alton, Ill.; and Mrs. Alfred (Mary Ruth) Wiley, Vermillion, Ohio; 23 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren.

Visitation took place Saturday at a funeral home in Fairview Heights. Her funeral will then be taken to Batesville, Miss., where services are pending.

The city government, hard pressed financially, is seeking to expand its revenue base. But the approach being used in this ordinance goes much too far, in our opinion, because it would penalize many needed enterprises and activities.

The cumulative monetary impact on numerous legitimate businesses could be confiscatory. We seem to recall an old saying that "the power to tax is the power to destroy." Present officials say there would be few multiple licensings, but their administration of the ordinance, but no guarantee of this is spelled out in the document.

The power to license implies the power not to license, if inspection by the city government determines that the business or trade being evaluated would be contrary to the public interest or safety.

This is a lot of power for the city to wield. And the scope of the inspections undoubtedly goes far beyond the time and ability of the present city inspection department. Nor would we like to see the staff substantially expanded.

We don't visualize ourselves hiring only those reporters approved by the city for licensing, or getting rid of those whom the city might turn down.

The same reasoning applies to many other fields, including those that lack specific constitutional protection. We doubt that the municipality could prove that it has sufficient expertise to fairly judge even a fraction of the almost endless list of businesses targeted by the ordinance.

Granite City is a home rule city under the 1970 Illinois Constitution. But even under home rule, rights of individual citizens must not be, cannot be, ground underfoot by government edict.

from the sprawling 27-acre embassy compound. Even short of a rescue operation, immediate and strong reprisals should have been insisted.

The time for economic sanctions and a naval blockade was last November. If Vietnam taught us nothing else, it should have been that gradual escalation does not work well.

Trojans have some big track shoes to fill

Press-Record Sports

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
MADISON — The problem is that they have all these shoes lying around the Madison High School track teams' locker room.

Shoes left over from a Class A powerhouse of a team last year. Shoes that need to be filled by members of the 1980 squad.

"I guess you could call it a rebuilding year," Madison track coach Charles Steptoe said. "If everything works out we should have an average year."

But Madison's "average" may be a little different than other folks standards, right coach?

"I hope you're right," Steptoe said. "We've got some pretty tremendous gaps to fill."

The Trojans have competed twice already — in the Charleston Indoor meet, March 8, and last Friday at home against Red Bud (results elsewhere).

And as expected, there were mixed results. In the early competition, Trojans coach Dixon has fared well, as expected. He finished second in the 60-yard dash in Charleston and jumped 20 feet, five inches in the long jump. Friday Dixon won both the 100-yard dash and long jump.

But Dixon, along with seniors Troy Butler, an 880, 440, Keith Edwards, a half-mile and 440 runner, and Terrence Haynes, a 220 man and hurdler; junior Raymond Price, a 2-miler, and 880 runner, should be the heart of the 1980 Trojans.

Gone are the likes of Earnest Davenport, the two-time state 440 qualifier; Sylvester Collins, another state qualifier; Marcus White; Tony Mayes; Alvin Bankhead; Raymond Price; state competitors all. Now only their empty shoes remain. "Our team record last year was the best in my memory," Steptoe recalled. "We set records during the season that stood up even after the state meet."

So this year's Madison squad will have to be built from the remaining contributors to that success and from others who now have a chance to prove themselves.

People like Carthell Hamilton, a junior distance runner; Larry Bell, a junior who runs both the mile and 2-mile; John Lewis and Elmer Collins, both long jumpers; weight men Jeff Robertson and Orlando Simms; among others.

The point is, there's work ahead for the Trojans. "But," said Steptoe, "We had 30 people out to begin the season, and everybody seems ready to work."

So somewhere, maybe the Trojans can find people to fit the shoes.

Steptoe hopes so.

Effingham edged by Manley in title game

By PETE HAYES

CHAMPAIGN — Willie Little had his doubts. After all, how good could a team be that had beat up the likes of Shelbyville, Vandalia and Flora? Sure, he had heard of the superhuman efforts of "that Arnold kid" and the potential of the 7'2½" German exchange student. But after all, his Chicago Manley team played in one of the best leagues in the country, The Chicago Public League.

What's a Hillsboro compared to a Chicago Collins or Westinghouse?

But Willie had no doubts now. As the Manley coach stood before a room full of reporters following his team's 69-61 Class AA championship game squeaker over Effingham Saturday night in the catacombs of the University of Illinois Assembly Hall, he said, "I had my doubts. I looked at who they had played and didn't figure they could be that good. But they're a fine team. An excellent one."

"That Arnold kid," 6'5" guard Mitch Arnold, set a new Class AA State Finals scoring record with his performance. Uwe Blab, the 7'2½" German foreign exchange student in the center for Effingham, was named with Arnold the All-Tournament team. But all the credentials in the world couldn't help Effingham against Manley.

Manley led most of the way, but never by much. In the end, it was free throw shooting that won it for the Wildcats. That seemed almost ironic in a two-day tournament that had featured some of the worst free throw shooting ever by all eight finalists.

Effingham simply ran up against a team with players that were a little quicker, just as talented and just as tall in most spots. The result was one of the most exciting championship games in recent years.

Blab was almost never a dominant factor once he picked up his fourth personal foul in the third quarter. He sat out the rest of the period, but started the fourth. "We have to have him in there," said Effingham coach Jim Maxedon. "But I thought (Mitch) Arnold did a good job on their big man when he was on him."

Manley's big man was 6'10" All-American center Russell Cross. He scored 17 points in the title game. Midway through the fourth quarter, Blab was called for his fifth personal foul. As he left the floor to a standing ovation from the near capacity of over 14,000 crowd, the red-head hugged Cross and two other Manley players. As he trotted toward the sideline, the Effingham fans chanted, "Oo-vay! Oo-vay! Oo-vay!"

"Hey, I even had my doubts about the big kid (Blab)," said Little. "But he's a player. He's a real fine player. All he needs is a little work and he has a good future in basketball."

Effingham appeared all but done for, when Blab exited. It was all over but the shouting. The proverbial fat lady was getting ready to sing.

But Blab's departure lit a fire under Effingham. The Hearts scored six unanswered points to make it a ball game again. The hero in the stretch was guard Dale Grupe. He scored another layup. Mitch Arnold added two free throws.

"We let up too much when the big kid fouled out," said Little. "I knew Effingham wasn't gonna give up. They had worked just as hard as we did to get here."

But that's when Cross went to work. He got loose for a slam dunk to make it 62-57. Then a string of free throws by the Wildcats finally got them out of the woods.

Effingham coach Jim Maxedon spoke with reporters after the Manley coach had left the interview room. "It's not much fun up here when you lose," he said with a sheepish grin. "But we gave it our best shot. We had our chances late. We made a run at 'em and then forced some turnovers. But then we'd turn it right back over to them."

"This is a great bunch of kids," Maxedon said of his team. "They've had to go through a lot of adversity this season and hung together. I'm very proud of them." The "adversity" was in part an exclusive amount of public exposure, according to Maxedon.

Manley coach Little had spoken harshly of Effingham's use of a foreign exchange student, Blab, on its basketball team. He said he felt it was wrong.

"He's crying," said Maxedon. "He's jealous. Heck, if you go up to Chicago and look at what goes on up there... There are kids who live in one district, have an address somewhere else and go to school somewhere else."

"I know, I've been there and seen it. The majority of schools have been doing it for years."

In the championship game, Manley shot a sizzling 27 of 41 shots for 65 percent, while Effingham shot 25 of 49 to 51 percent. The win boosts Manley's final record to 31-1 while Effingham finishes at 30-2.

A classic: State title game a study in contrasts CHAMPAIGN — It was an impossible dream. The classic confrontation.

North against South. Farm boys against the inner-city blacks. The Blab against the Man.

That was the setup here

Saturday night when the Chicago Manley Wildcats and the Effingham Fighting Hearts battled it out on the floor of Assembly Hall for the 1980 Class AA basketball championship. Manley's third-ranked squad eventually came out on top with a 69-61 victory, but not until after making seven critical free throws in the last minute and a half after Effingham put on a torrid comeback.

The Man, Russell Cross of Manley. A pre-season All-American center. He stands 6'10" and he's a kind of guy who loves to slam-dunk the ball "in yo' face," as the playground saying goes.

The Blab, Uwe Blab, Effingham's 7'2½" center. An exchange student from West Germany, he has stirred up quite a bit of controversy. But he can play, too. But he had never faced anyone the likes of The Man before. Not until Saturday night.

Cross came out on top Saturday in his head-to-head scoring battle with Blab. But that wasn't surprising. Cross has been playing basketball since he was old enough to walk. Blab is in his third year. Cross scored 17 points and Blab scored eight. But scoring wasn't the whole story.

The two fought each other tooth and nail. Shoving, holding, grabbing. It's all part of the inside game, but seemed magnified hundreds of times when these two behemoths went at it.

In the early going, it appeared Blab might gain the upper hand in the battle. He took a rebound out of Cross' hands and threw an outlet pass to a teammate who scored a breakaway layup. They he blocked a shot by Cross. That's something The Man isn't used to.

But then, the ultimate Blab got loose from the Manley defense for a split second. Teammate Mitch Arnold spotted him with a pass in the lane. The crowd rose to its feet. The nearly 16,000 fans knew what would come next. When it happened, they roared their approval.

Blab slam-dunked the basketball with Cross standing helplessly under the basket. "In yo' face," he was asked. The 17-year-old red-headed junior looked puzzled. It was explained to him exactly what the term means. Still not quite understanding, he gave the German words for the term. Then he said with a laugh, "We don't say that in Germany."

In the locker room where the University of Illinois Fighting Illini dressed and celebrated some exciting moments the past season sat Blab and Arnold. Reporters were anxious to hear what the two had to say, probably more than what Maxedon had to offer after the game, since they had been banned from speaking to the players all season.

Arnold was well-known in Southern Illinois going into the State Finals. Now that the tourney was over, his name had become synonymous state-wide with those of Quinn

GRANITE CITY — "Oops, upside the head, oops upside the head!"

Not an uncommon chant to hear from the cheerleaders and fans of the East St. Louis Lincoln basketball teams, especially when their clubs are winging it. It was heard as the boys squad made their march through the regionals and sectionals and finally into the superschool. It was heard once again, in the Granite City South Gym Thursday.

Adding to a list of accomplishments, the East St. Louis Lincoln Tigerettes walked away with the championship of the Granite City South Class AA Sectional tournament with a 77-47 crushing of Jacksonville. The Tigerettes (27-0) will meet Belleville West (23-3) in a superschool showdown Monday at East St. Louis Senior High. Belleville West defeated Mount Vernon 56-51 in a sectional championship Thursday at Centralia.

It seems that the Tigerettes can hurt their opponents in so many ways, one just doesn't expect junior Justine Moore to do so much damage. She does handle the ball and runs the offense, but should the opposition let up for only a brief moment, the kid they call "Oopie" will burn them. Doing this time and time again against Jacksonville, Moore banged in eight of her points in the first quarter enabling the Tigerettes to slip into a slim 20-14 lead.

However, a controlled fast break and patience of offense proved to be the difference as Lincoln held the Crimson to just seven second quarter points while hitting a streak of 10 unanswered tallies to blow the game wide open leading by 21 at intermission. "We played good defense tonight," said Riggins. "The girls didn't allow Jacksonville time for any special preparation on offense. I really have to give credit to them."

Lincoln's defensive effort in the second quarter and throughout the remainder of the contest turned out to be beneficial from another angle. The Tigerettes held the Crimson's sensational Francine Blackburn to just 14 points. Blackburn had been averaging 25 points a game. "I think Francine was a little intimidated," said Jacksonville head coach Marge Howard. "They (Lincoln) really limited us from our offense."

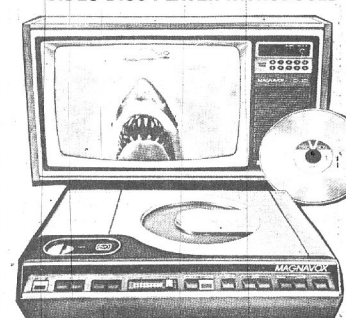

"I don't think one person will beat us," said Riggins. Indeed it will take more than one, as Lincoln battered Jacksonville in almost every statistical category. Along with Moore, Crystal Coleman also scored 18 points, 14 in the second half and most of them courtesy of Moore. When the inside track to the basket was not open for the lay-in, Moore would dump the ball off and Coleman would go in for the easy shot.

While the backcourt provided the offensive attack, the front line handled the chore on the boards. The physical and much taller girls of Lincoln muscled their way to grab 50 caroms to 35 for the Crimson. "We worked on our rebounding all year," said Howard, "but when you're outsized, there's not much you can do. We tried to utilize our fast break because of our height disadvantage. Jacksonville also hurt its own cause, mishandling the ball for 30 turnovers."

VIDEO DISC PLAYER INTRODUCED

"In 1947 Television changed our lives. Today, Magnavox introduces a revolutionary new concept for viewers... Magnavision," commented Bert Longhi, owner of Bert's Sales and Rentals, 1910 Delmar. "Magnavision actually lets a person play a record and see it through the television, the same way a record is played and heard through a stereo."

It allows for slow motion, frame-by-frame and reverse motion. Just place a simple disc on the simple machine which connects to the television." Bert continued, "Quad Cities area residents have an opportunity to see Magnavision and the Magnavox Videodisc player from March 24-29 at our store," Bert concluded.

BLAB (L) AND CROSS

Now, everyone's gunning for the Steelers

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Granite City North, the baseball team that surprised the state last year, won't be a darkhorse this time around, for better or worse.

The Steelers rode to within a game of the state tournament last season on the basis of an offense that in its progress became known as the "Lumber Company."

This year, though four of the most lusty of the Steelers' hitters are gone, North's pre-season stock has definitely increased from the 1979 variety.

"That has to do something for a team," North coach Bob Stegemeier said. "It has to be infectious for the younger kids."

But there's another side, too. "I've already told everybody that this is a new year. We can't rest on our past successes. Those press clippings are nice, but that don't win ball games."

What wins games, of course is the kind of hitting that propelled North last year. Hitting of the over-300 type.

Well four of those type hitters will return to the Steel line-up this year. Shortstop Bob Bates, third baseman Mike Robertson, first baseman Dennis Page and outfielder Bob Ford.

All are back and bring their lofty hitting statistics with them.

While the North bats were blazing in 1979, they supported a mostly young and inexperienced pitching staff.

Only junior Steve Doty had any real experience.

This year, though, those young pitchers have become seniors. And along with Doty, three other lettermen return to the mound — Great Faulkner, Ron Pinkston, Kevin Cripps, and Keith Burton.

"We may not score as many runs as last year," Stegemeier said. "But our pitching should be stronger support. Instead of winning those eight to seven games, maybe we can win some three to two."

In order for the Steelers to match last year's season, Stegemeier knows that his 1979 graduating players will have to be replaced by younger players.

"It's a matter of finding where you're weak and filling in those spots," he said.

On of those spots where graduation has left a void is at catcher. There, senior Brian Patterson, a part-time player last season, will compete with junior Alan Schmidt and freshman Alan DeWet for a job.

Second base was also vacated and three juniors — Danny Patterson, Mark Hassler and Brian Corey — will vie for the position.

In the outfield, seniors Joe Folom and Bob Ford and junior Rob Chapman will probably start, and a group of four juniors will be in reserve. Jeff Puryear, Craig Burkey, Rick Buer, and Russ Hamell will fill in the outfield.

Just how well the Steelers do may be determined by how they handle last year's success. "The people we lost," Stegemeier said, "All provided a lot of leadership. Hopefully the people we have returning can do the same, so far they've been able to."

But the Steelers won't come from anywhere like last year. "Everybody I talk to seems to think that Edwardsville and us are the teams to beat. That means people will be waiting for us this year."

"I think our conference (the Gateway East) should be very competitive, though. Belleville Althoff always has a good team. Cahokia is coming back from an off year, then there's South and Edwardsville who are always tough. So we know our work'd cut out for us."

Only this time everyone will be watching.

Hearts, Manley move to championship game

Semifinals

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — The Blab took charge.

Effingham's 7-2 1/2.

German exchange student

Uwe Blab (pronounced Oo-va Blob) overcame a timid first half here Saturday afternoon to lead his team to a 55-43 victory over Aurora West in the semifinals of the Illinois Class AA State Finals at Assembly Hall.

Blab scored 13 points, not as many as teammate Mitch

Arnold, who canned 19, but they came at the most opportune times.

Late early in the third quarter when Blab scored a layup to give the Flaming Hearts the lead at 24-23. Then he took a feed-pass from Arnold for a slam-dunk and a 26-23 lead. Arnold hit two straight shots and Blab scored again.

All of a sudden, it was 32-

23. "Uwe came out and started hitting the boards hard in the second half," said Effingham coach Jim Maxedon. "When he did that, our whole game picked up."

But it wasn't a two-man show for Effingham. Far from it. In fact, the Hearts might not have won had it not been for the efforts of forward Dallas Orsborn in the first half.

Orsborn, a 6'3" senior forward, had nine points and six rebounds in the first half. "We're a complete team," said Maxedon. "We need every single player who's out there."

Effingham's championship game opponent was determined a couple of hours later when Chicago Manley doused Lincoln's hopes 59-45. It was a case of Manley having too much height for the comparatively small Rail Splitters, whose tallest player is 6'3".

The Wildcats measured 6'4", 6'4", 6'7" and 6'10", too much for Lincoln, which entered the game with a 30-1 record.

DeLaSalle is dumped

Quarterfinals

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record
CHAMPAIGN — For a half here Friday, it looked as if Effingham High School's dream would come to an abrupt halt.

Effingham trailed Chicago DeLaSalle 25-16 at the intermission and was going nowhere in a hurry. The Flaming Hearts' famed scoring machine had thrown a gasket. But then Dr. Arnold came up with the prescription that cured the ailing Hearts.

Effingham all-star Mitch Arnold scored 29 of his 39 points in the second half and paced the Hearts to a 68-56 rout of DeLaSalle in a quarterfinal game at the Illinois Class AA State Finals at the University of Illinois Assembly Hall.

In other quarterfinal games, Aurora West downed Peoria Richwoods 44-43. Lincoln (Ill.) beat Chicago Gordon Tech 66-47 and Chicago Manley held off Downer's Grove South, 55-54. Arnold looked anything but tremendous in the first half, however. He even fired up two air-balls in a frigid shooting half for the Flaming Hearts. But he made up for it in the second half.

In the Aurora West win over Richwoods, it took a last-second shot by Peoria's Mike O'Brien bounced twice on the rim before falling off, giving West its trip to the semifinals against Effingham.

Lincoln's Rail Splitters were never in trouble against Gordon Tech. The small but quick Lincoln squad shot 56 percent from the floor, compared to Gordon's 37 percent.

Manley had to hold on for dear life against Downer's Grove. The Wildcats, who entered the tournament as the favorite, held a 53-44 lead over Downer's Grove but saw it shrink to 53-52. The force behind the comeback was Downer's Grove's South's Dan Pelekoudas. He scored 17 points, mostly in the second half, but the rally came up inches short.

Arnold is unanimous pick for all-tourney

CHAMPAIGN — Effingham's Mitch Arnold was the only unanimous choice here Saturday for a spot on the Associated Press and United Press International All State Tournament teams at the Illinois Class AA State Finals.

Arnold, who set a Class AA scoring record, was named on every ballot cast for first team honors.

Joining Arnold on the AP first team were teammate Uwe Blab, Manley's Russell Cross and Vincent Johnson and Downer's Grove South's Dan Pelekoudas. On the UPI squad, Aurora West's Jeff Fichtel replaced Pelekoudas on the first team.

On the second AP team, were Dallas Orsborn of Effingham, Dan Duff and Paul Kendrick of Lincoln, James Malone of Aurora West and Fichtel. The UPI second team was Duff, Kendrick, Pelekoudas and Mike Williams of Chicago DeLaSalle and Terry Cole of Peoria Richwoods.

Arnold scored 115 points in the tournament (including the Super-Sectional against East St. Louis Lincoln) for an average of 29.8 points per game, breaking the total of 112 set in 1972 by Aurora East's Greg Smith. Arnold was also the leading rebounder in the tournament with 52, an average of 13 a game. Lawrenceville's Jay Shidler holds the all-time scoring record of 157 points in the four games of the 1976 Class A tournament.

Red Bud downs MHS

MADISON — The Madison High track team took it on the chin here Friday in its opening outdoor meet of the season, falling to Red Bud 77 1/2 - 66 1/2. Madison had nine winners in the meet, but it wasn't enough to offset the balance of Red Bud.

Charles Dixon of Madison won the 100 yard dash in 11.8 seconds. Teammate Charles Fuller took the 200 yard run in 25.7. Madison's Orlando Buckles won the 400 in 55.6.

In the 110 meter high hurdles, Madison's Terence Haynes was the winner in 19.3 seconds. Larry Ball of Madison claimed the 300 meter hurdles in 44.7. Madison managed two winners in the field events.

Dixon won the long jump with a leap of 19-1/2 and Darnell Dixon won the triple jump with a distance of 37 feet, two inches.

Red Bud athletes won the 800 meter dash, 1600 meter run, 3200 meter run, 1600 meter relay, 3200 meter relay, the shot put, discus, high jump and triple jump. Madison 400 meter relay team won that event in a time of 47.6. The Trojans also took honors in the 800 meter relay in 1:41.4.

MIRACLE WINS IT Venice High edged Carmi 59-58 in three overtimes at the 1975 Class A Charleston Super-Sectional on a last-second "miracle shot" by Reggie Gardner, who flipped the ball 55 feet, over his shoulder while falling out of bounds. Venice went on to win the state championship.

Mulach shines

ST. LOUIS — Granite City South's Greg Mulach was named the "third star of the game" here Saturday night as his American Conference All-Stars downed the National Conference 3-0 in the first-ever Midstates Prep Ice Hockey League All-Star game at the Checkerdome.

Mulach, a senior goalie, made 29 saves in the first two periods before giving way to goalie Mark McCoy of hamnade in the third period.

Scott Rupp of St. Thomas Aquinas was named the game's first star for his two goals and one assist. Defenseman Randy Chitwood of DeSmet was named the second star.

Granite City South had another representative on the American Conference squad. Forward Billy McKinnon saw considerable action.

The game was played as a preliminary contest to the St. Louis Blues - Washington Capitals game.

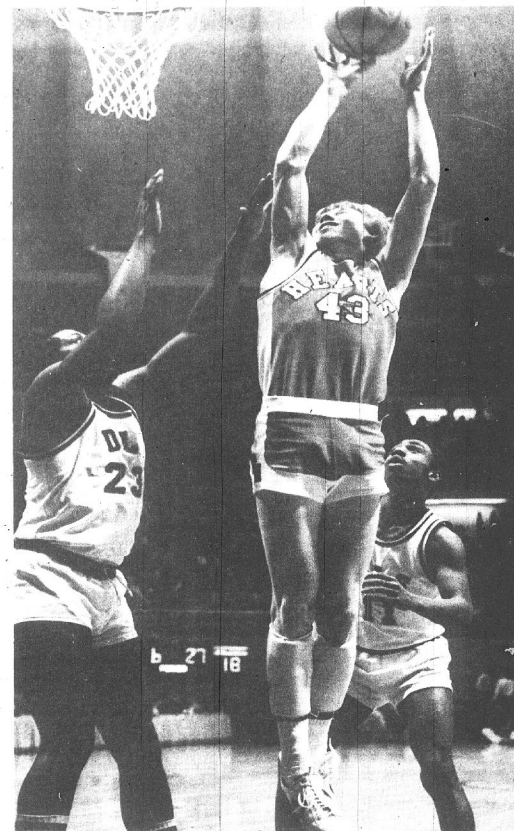

Aurora takes third

CHAMPAIGN — Aurora West managed to hold off a late bid by Lincoln here Saturday night and win the third place trophy at the Illinois Class AA State Finals at Assembly Hall.

Although they never led in the game, the Rail Splitters tied the score five times after rallying from behind. Sensing the victory, Aurora West held onto the ball in the closing moments, forcing Lincoln to come out and commit fouls. Trouble for Lincoln was the Blackhawks made their free throws.

Earlier in the day, Aurora West had lost to Effingham and Lincoln was beaten by Chicago Manley in semifinal games (see related stories).

The loss dropped Lincoln's final record to 20-5, while Aurora West finished its campaign with a 25-7 record. Aurora West was led in scoring by James Malone who had 21 points. Lincoln's top scorer was Dan Duff with 16.

RECORD-SETTER. Effingham's Mitch Arnold (43) did all he could to bring the Class AA state basketball championship to Southern Illinois. He scored 115 points in the four games of the state tournament, a new large school record. But the Flaming Hearts came up eight points shy of the championship against Chicago Manley. Here, Arnold scores against Chicago DeLaSalle in a quarterfinal win.

SO MANY people in our area do not know that Jesus loves them. Especially the way they are right now. You don't have to change your own life or make yourself better. Let Jesus do it for you. Let Him have your problems, your alcohol and your drugs. Don't take a life that is so precious to Jesus and put it in the ground before it's time. Let God change your life for the better. Remember that He made you. He loves you just as you are. God did not make junk or junkies. If you have tried everything in this world to be happy and you're still miserable, forget these worldly things and try Jesus! What do you have to lose? If you don't know Jesus and you're ready for a change in your life, for the better, call us today. 451-1385, 877-3548 or 452-1519. 22 3 24
